MAGNATE MORSE GETS FIFTEEN YEARS FOR SWINDLING THROUGH BANK OF NORTH AMERICA

CURTIS, CONVICTED, TERM SUSPENDED

BANK PRESIDENT DOMINATED BY WICKED ICE KING

SENSATIONAL COURT SCENE

MRS. CURTIS FAINTS WHEN HUSBAND IS FREED

GREAT CROWD IS PRESENT

Cheers Follow Curtis and Devoted Wife—Morse Goes Back to the Tombs

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Charles W. Morse, financier, trust magnate and banker, until a year ago a powerful factor in the financial fabric in New York city, was today sentenced to serve a term of 15 years in prison.

Alfred Curtis, former president of the Bank of North America, Morse's partner in crime, was released, the judge suspending his sentence.

The verdict of the jury was rendered last night in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court. The charges sustained were misappropriation of the bank's funds and falsifying the books of the bank. The additional charge of conspiracy was not entertained by the jury. Judge Hough having dismissed it for lack of evidence. The crime of falsifying the books has under the statute but one punishment, a prison sentence, there being no alternate fine allowed.

Bail Is Refused.
An immediate appeal, made last night, for bail for the two men, was immediately refused by the court. The men spent the night in the Tombs, and were ordered to appear for sentence at 10 o'clock this morning.

Morse breakfasted heartily at 6 o'clock this morning in the Tombs, but Curtis ate but little. They appeared in court at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Morse greeted her husband coolly, neither of the pair showing any noticeable emotion. Mrs. Curtis, a nervous wreck as the result of her husband's trouble, was in a sad state, and Curtis showed deep emotion as he sprang toward her with open arms.

Court Scores Morse.
In passing sentence, Judge Hough declared that in his opinion Curtis had been dominated by the stronger mind of Morse, whom he felt had been the criminal influence. He said that Curtis' efforts at reform were blocked by the supine board of directors of the bank.

While the court was passing sentence the room was crowded with curious people. Both defendants, who sat in charge of deputies in the jury box, showed agitation. Mrs. Curtis sat next to her sister, Mrs. Gardner, and Col. R. M. Thompson. Mrs. Morse sat with her two sons, Harry and Ben.

Mrs. Curtis Faints.
When Judge Hough suspended sentence on Curtis, Mrs. Curtis fainted, and was borne from the court room. When, a few moments later, Curtis accompanied by his wife and sister-in-law, departed, he was cheered by hundreds. Morse, his wife and sons and counsel conversed in the marshal's office until noon, when he was taken to the Tombs. Morse never flinched, nor showed the slightest emotion when sentenced to prison at Atlanta, Ga.

Jury Pleads for Curtis.
Curtis' minimum sentence of 5 years was suspended on recommendation of the jury and district attorney. Curtis wept, quieting his wife after she fainted. Mrs. Curtis walked with her husband, sister and Col. Thompson through the cheering throng to the elevated. Morse walked firmly and swiftly to the marshal's room, followed by his wife and sons and Counsel Littlefield. Mrs. Morse, pale and her lips firm, held her head high.

In passing sentence Hough said: "The recommendation of a particularly intelligent and painstaking jury, and the district attorney inclines the court to clemency. The court does not believe it was the intention of the defendant, 'Curtis', to engage in an illegal transaction. He, in the opinion of the jury and the court, embarked upon what he knew was wrong, and when he found himself involved, he did not have the strength to stop. With the jurors, I believe he writhed under the domination of a stronger mind. He was conscious it was wrong, but with the prospect of losing his position, which was better paying than any he held before, he was likely to hold again, his feeble

ESCH NOTIFIED BY PAYNE OF TARIFF MEETING ON NOV. 10

IMMEDIATE REVISION IS PLAN OF ADMINISTRATION

IN SESSION UNTIL DEC. 4

WORK OF CHANGING SCHEDULES BY CONGRESSIONAL COM.

TELEGRAM, RECEIVED TODAY

La Crosse Congressman Learns of Immediate Purpose to Fulfill Party Pledge

Congressman John J. Esch this morning received a telegram from Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee announcing that, beginning November 10, hearings will be held on tariff revision and that they will continue until congress convenes, Dec. 4.

Mr. Esch expresses himself as pleased with the announcement and says that he and other republicans are gratified over the circumstance. "It goes to show," said Mr. Esch today, "that the republican party was in good faith when they announced that steps would be taken to revise the tariff."

The hearings are to be held in the committee's rooms in the office building at Washington. Some doubt about ability to complete the work in both houses this winter arises from the fact that even after the hearings by the house committee are completed much time must be spent in the preparation of the new schedules. Then the senate committee on finances must go over the subject, which requires additional time.

Quick Action Wanted.
It is the desire of the republican leaders of the administration and congress, as it will be of the coming president, that the tariff revision problem shall be disposed of at the earliest possible day.

If it were not for the time to be consumed in rehearings and debates over the details of the schedules it would be possible to get the new bill through during a session of seventy days' duration.

In any event, the present program insures a gain of two or three months over what was accomplished when last the tariff laws were revised in the special session of congress called by President McKinley in March, 1897.

It will be remembered that the revision then followed the incoming of a new republican administration and congress. The democrats had been in power in all branches, and when the new republican congress, elected in 1896, was called in special session in March, 1897, it was without advance preparation, no complete new bill was held, and a complete new bill was required five months to complete the new law and get it before the president for his signature, which was affixed on July 24.

ELSA TRAEER HURT IN COLLISION OF AN AUTO AND ST. CAR

SKULL FRACTURED, ACCORDING TO POLICE REPORT

RELATIVES DENY CONDITION

FATHER WIRES FRIENDS HERE SHE IS RECOVERING

HURLED TO THE PAVEMENT

Physician Called to Attend Daughter of Man Well Known Here; Calls it Concussion of the Brain

Miss Elsa Traer, daughter of N. W. Traer, whose family spends their summers in La Crosse and maintains a handsome cottage in the coulee south of Grand Daddy bluff, was probably fatally hurt in a collision between her father's automobile and a Chicago street car yesterday. Mr. Traer in a telegram to La Crosse friends today says the girl is not as badly hurt as reported in the newspapers, and that she is recovering rapidly from the effects of the accident.

The story of the affair appearing in today's Chicago Tribune, and which is without question authentic, follows:

"Elsa Traer, 12 years old, daughter of N. W. Traer, receiver for the Chicago Collieries company, is said to be in a serious condition at her father's home, 4363 Oakwood avenue, from injuries received in a collision between her father's auto and a Forty-third street car yesterday morning.

"The girl's skull is fractured, according to the official police report of the accident, which occurred at Ellis avenue and Forty-third street. Relatives of the injured girl deny this report.

"Traer and his daughter were driving north on Ellis avenue when the car struck their auto. Both Mr. Traer and the motorman saw that the collision was inevitable, but neither could stop.

"The girl's head struck on the car rails with great force when she was hurled from the machine. Dr. James Walker, Jefferson avenue and Fifty-third street, announced after an examination that she was suffering from concussion of the brain and that her condition was serious."

According to a special dispatch received by the Tribune this afternoon several other wagons and automobiles were passing near at the time and the father of the child says he believes the motorman of the car could not see his machine.

The little girl is expected to speedily recover.

"Every business man who is obeying the law may go ahead with all the energy in his possession, every enterprise which is within the statutes may proceed without fear of interference from the administration, when acting legally, but all interests within the jurisdiction of the federal government may expect a rigid enforcement of the laws against dishonest methods," was the keynote of what Mr. Taft said.

CRISIS CONFRONTS UNLUCKY EMPEROR

GERMANY STIRRED OVER DIPLOMATIC SITUATION

FOREIGN OFFICE IS A FARCE

POPULAR DEMAND FOR REAL DIPLOMATS THERE

RULER IS IN BAD ORDER

Emperor Declared Garrulous and Told He Must Hold His Tongue or Resign

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—The culmination of a week of protest against the diplomatic errors of Emperor William came today in a daring declaration by Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, that the kaiser should curb the tendency to engage in controversial politics or abdicate the German throne. The utterance is considered the boldest that ever appeared in a German newspaper and produced a sensation.

Creates Sensation.

Harden's attack is being widely quoted by papers over the empire. Harden said in part:

"Does the emperor desire to renounce the throne? His grandfather contemplated an abdication in a less serious crisis and one not brought by his own fault. The emperor must not be blind to the fact that his fellow countrymen are against both him and his chancellor. Neither Chancellor Von Buelow nor his successor can retain office without a pledge from the emperor that will limit his share in the government. The future of Germany must demand this, and the house of Hohenzollern must demand it, too, in this cruelly grave hour. Otherwise, it will be too late.

Foreign Office Assailed.

Harden is not alone in his protest. In a wave of popular sentiment the Germans today are demanding a new deal in the foreign office. Beginning with the loss of prestige in Turkish affairs through the failure of German to foresee the ultimate triumph of the young Turk movement and culminating in the Casablanca fiasco, Germany has had the worst of every international complication. Recognizing the imbecility of the Emperor, there is greater need of diplomats in Germany than in any of the other great chancelleries. The German people love peace. They argue it is better to clean house now than to let the blunder continue to a point where Germany is either compelled to fight or withdraw in disgrace from a new entanglement.

Kaiser's Friend Did It.

It was learned today on the highest authority that the author of the famous Kaiser interview is Sir Rowland Blennerhasset, an Irish baronet who married a German baroness, and an intimate friend of the Kaiser.

A SCRUB GAME FOR TOMORROW

As it was impossible for Manager Esch to secure a game for tomorrow afternoon, a scrub game will be played between the first and second teams. During the last week several new trick plays have been taught the men by Coach Cooper in preparation for the Eau Claire game, which takes place in this city a week from today. Coach Cooper does not regret that this is an open date, as several of the best first team men are still out of the game an account of injuries, and if a regular game were to be played a patched team would have to play the game, and this would probably mean defeat for the team. By next Friday night Cooper expects that every injured man but Jungbluth, who will probably be out of the game for the rest of the season, will have recovered and be in fine condition for the hard contest with Eau Claire.

The practice this week has been rather light, scrimmage only being indulged in one evening. The team next week, however, will be put through the stiffest kind of practice and by Friday evening a team able

RED TOP OWNER GETS "COLD FEET"

SEEKS DELAY BY DICKERING OVER PLACE OF RACE

TRAUTNER NAMES LAKE PEPIN

And as Challenged Party Has Right to Name Course, but Huyhey Seeks Place to Warm Feet

It seems that W. E. Huyhey's feet will be so cold before a race can be arranged that there will be no chance for a speed contest this year between the Red Top of Bellevue, Iowa, owned by that gentleman, and the Flyer Red Wing, owned by J. R. Trautner of Red Wing, Minn.

Some time ago Mr. Huyhey, reading of the wonderful speed performances of the Red Wing, in defeating the fast Yellow Sallie of Winona, challenged Trautner for a race for a trophy worth $100. Trautner promptly accepted the challenge and as is customary with the challenged party named Lake Pepin as the course for the race. So promptly was the challenge of the Bellevue man accepted that a chill evidently struck his pedal extremities and he now wants to race where the water is warm enough to take the frost from his bunions. He also seems, to judge from his letter, to be getting scared. He is liable to run away entirely unless Mr. Trautner hurries to come to his terms.

Mr. Trautner declares the Flyer Red Wing is the champion of the upper Mississippi and is ready to meet all comers, but of course being the champion cannot be expected to chase up and down the river looking to satisfy the aspirations of every Tom, Dick and Harry who has a boat with more than one cylinder. It is customary for the aspirants to seek out the champion in all sporting events. Therefore if the Red Top is in earnest about wanting to try a tilt with the Flyer, Mr. Huyhey will be expected to put on woolen socks and start north.

Huyhey's Proposition.

Replying to Trautner's acceptance of his original challenge for a race Huyhey, owner of the Red Top, wrote:

"Davenport, Ia., Nov. 3, 1908.

"Mr. J. R. Trautner, Red Wing, Minn.—Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of Oct. 31, will say that I have offered you a trophy valued at one hundred dollars ($100) or its equivalent in cash, if you come down to Bellevue and beat the Red Top. I will also cover any bet (no limit) that you are to make on your boat.

"This offer must be accepted at once, as I leave Bellevue for the winter the middle of the month. Yours truly,

"W. E. HUYHEY."

Plenty of Money.

Replying, the owner of the champion puts it up to Mr. Huyhey in this fashion:

"Mr. W. E. Huyhey, Bellevue, Ia.

"Dear Sir: In reply to yours of the 3rd, beg to say your challenge does not stipulate where the race shall take place. As the challenged party we have the right to name the point where the race shall take place. Our selection is Lake Pepin. There is no question but what you can get all the bets you wish in Red Wing. There are a large number of boat enthusiasts here, who will no doubt cover any amount of money that you wish to put up. We would suggest that if you want to race with Flyer Red Wing, that you do so immediately, as Lake Pepin is known to freeze over in the neighborhood of Dec. 1. Yours very truly,

"J. R. TRAUTNER."

CHICAGO—The varsity team is ready for the game with Cornell, and Stagg says that team is much better prepared than they were last Saturday, therefore they must be in good shape, for they greatly surprised the rooters then and the followers look forward to another surprise next Saturday.

"CHANCE WILL STAY," SAYS PRES. MURPHY

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 6.—President Charles Murphy of the Chicago National League club, who was here, said that Frank Chance would not retire as manager of the world's champions, as reported, but would carry out his four years' contract.

President Murphy said: "Frank has signed for four years and he is a man of honor. I am sure he will carry out his contract. Personally we are the best of friends, and I would want no other manager. We have argued now and then about matters of policy, but I have never interfered with his just prerogatives, and never shall."

President Murphy said his sole object in coming here was to shake hands with President-elect Taft.

MANY DEER HUNTERS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 6.—State Game Warden Stone tonight said that the indications were that when the deer hunting season opens next Wednesday morning there will be a large number of hunters in the wood in Wisconsin than ever before. The demand for resident and non-resident licenses has been unprecedented. So far this season 10,000 resident licenses have been issued to residents and thirty-two licenses to hunt small game have been issued to non-residents. Probably the biggest deer hunter this season will be H. E. Hodson of Chicago who got a license today. He stands 6 feet 3 inches in his stockings and tips the scales at 351 pounds.

Fishing in a Fog.

The following story, about William Howard Taft, as related in the New York Times, is, to say the least, interesting:

Secretary Taft and Justice Harlan of the supreme court, while recently playing golf on Murray Bay inks near Mr. Taft's summer home, were

HOW ONE BOXER WORKS OUT

Jimmy Walsh, the Boston Boxer, Working Out at His Home

Walsh is a great favorite among the boys and one of his regular stunts is to pile a bunch of them into a wheelbarrow and push them around. This is a novel stunt, but affords him and the boys much pleasure, as well as giving him good exercise, for it is no easy matter to run a quarter of a mile and push a wheelbarrow.

approached by a photographer, who requested them to sit for a picture together. Justice Harlan, removing his cap, disclosed a thoughtful but decidedly shiny dome.

"You want to look out, judge," said Mr. Taft, "you fog the plate."

"Speaking of fogs," continued the secretary, "my favorite fishing place is some five and a half miles from here on the river, and my favorite hour for this sport is before sunrise. I therefore, one night, had all arrangements made, a horse and buggy ready, and left a call to be awakened at 2:30 o'clock the next morning. On getting up I found the whole countryside enveloped in a thick, gray fog, but as I was familiar with every foot of the way, I drove ahead undaunted. At 4 o'clock I concluded I had reached my destination; in fact, I recognized dimly an old tree in the neighborhood. I drove up a little closer to the bank, baited my hook and cast blindly from my buggy seat out into the fog over the river.

"Luck was with me from the start. I yanked in a big 5-pound bass inside of two minutes. In another minute I had—believe me, judge—landed a fine trout. Next came a bouncing salmon. After that, the fishing, as they say in pugilistic circles, was fast and furious. In less than two hours I had completely filled my buggy with the most remarkable catch of my life."

The justice sat back in silent thought.

"But that is not all," concluded Mr. Taft. "At sunrise the fog lifted and cleared. I found that I was over a mile from the river, and had been fishing in the fog all the time."

The larger the Washing the greater the need of Beach's Peosta Soap
Wash The Peosta Way and have clean clothes, white clothes, with as little labor as possible and without fear of injuring the fabric or wearing them out on the scrub-board. Soak them an hour or more in Peosta Suds, (to release the dirt), and they will be just ready to "come white."
5.—The whiteness of clothes greatly depends upon thorough rinsing. When well rinsed in two or three clear waters and the rinsing water put through the wringer and hang out at once. Lay aside articles to be starched, that they may be done together.

THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE
The republican county committee has been subjected to considerable criticism which seems to have been supported by factional hostility rather than the facts, and it may be well to observe at the outset that in this campaign, so far as the La Crosse county committee was concerned, the old factional lines were obliterated and gentlemen of both factions worked harmoniously and enthusiastically in a struggle which, as they had rightly anticipated, proved the hardest for their party in the recent history of La Crosse county.
John F. Doherty and his democratic cohorts, armed with the optimism of a—four once—united organization, and supported by the Bryan sentiment which has always been a factor in this progressive county, made the most vigorous and successful canvass for his party in many years. On top of that, organized labor in La Crosse, usually largely republican, was following Gompers' lead and became extensively allied with the democrats. Add to this the fact that La Crosse county republicans were not, as a body, favorable to the nomination of Senator Stephenson, and that certain defection had followed the repudiation of some of the La Follette planks in the state platform, and contemplating the further cir-assured. But when the votes were counted the country was startled with the announcement that Taft had actually carried both New York City and Brooklyn.

"This can have but one meaning, the local democratic leaders put the knife into Bryan clear up to the hilt and then turned it around.
"The same fact is manifested in the returns from Chicago, where the Hon. Roger Sullivan rules the hosts of democracy. Taft carried the city by 50,000, but Stevenson, democratic candidate for governor, has a substantial plurality over his republican rival.
"The 'train robber' got even with the sage of Fairview, while all the time loudly professing his loyalty to the national ticket."

WATKINSON'S AFTERTHOUGHT.
Perhaps the most interesting figure in the late lamented democratic national organization which operated in the recent campaign, was Henry Watkinson. He had been opposed to Bryan as a theorist. Shortly before the Denver convention he met the Nebraskan, and came from a long conference with him a convert. He had found in Bryan a sane man, patriotic, wise, able. So he turned, and the political sensation of that date was his warm espousal of the Commoner's cause. His defense of Bryan against Parker when the Cleveland resolution was produced to strike Bryan over a dead man's shoulder, was vigorous, his attack on its promulgators searing.
And not in the defeat of Bryan does he seem to have lost confidence in the man, or surrendered his loyalty to him. In an editorial entitled "And Now," he says:

"I do not know," said Edmund Burke, 'the method of drawing up an indictment against a whole people.'
"Neither does the Courier-Journal. The result of Tuesday's election shows conclusively that a great majority of the people of the controlling section of the union are well content with things as they are; that it is better to endure these conceded shortcomings of the party in power than embark upon an unknown sea of continuous agitation; that Bryan meant this whilst Taft meant rest; in short that a dollar, though tainted in hand, is worth a bushel full of patriotic abstractions.
"The average voter of better education and intelligence takes no thought of the hereafter and is even more indifferent to the heretofore. He is completely engrossed by the present.
"We need take no account here of the agency of organization and corruption, though both may be seen clearly enough. They show so plainly in the nomination and election of the successful candidate as to make it apparent that whole segments of the people are no longer appalled by anything however immoral and wrong that does not touch their pockets. Even those that preach the simple life in the magazines of the east are deaf to the drum taps of conscience. Nay, he that shrieks 'righteousness' from the highest places is found often practicing fraud in the lowest, so that the language of the religion of literature and journalism and commerce is cant.
"That the republican party cannot compose the impressive conflict between capital and labor is as certain as that the old historic democratic party could not compose that between freedom and slavery. But neither the chieftains of the system nor the victorious party leaders need trouble themselves about that just yet. With such men the rule is 'sufficient unto the day' and 'Eat, drink and be merry, though tomorrow ye die.'

"The result shows that we over-sized the spiritual and undersized the material in the hearts and minds of the people. They were deaf alike to presidents, to reason and to eloquence; for nothing could surpass, as nothing has ever equalled, the personal canvass of Mr. Bryan; its wondrous lucidity and power of statement; its splendid intellectual and physical endurance; its unanswerable arguments.
La Crosse county gave Senator Morris 4,445 votes to 793 for his opponent. This, Mr. Gelatt explains, was due to the fact that Gullickson was on the regular ballot as an independent democrat instead of a straight democrat. Applying this reasoning to the Eke-Twisme fight, in which Eke was beaten by 153 votes in a total republican poll of 2,300, Eke having been running as an independent, it is fair to assume that had the positions been reversed, Twisme would have had hard work to save his ace.

You! Dyspeptics Read
What An Eminent Medical Man Says Dyspepsia Really Is. Then Gain Hope.
"This affection called dyspepsia, is the greatest torment of civilized life, and is to be considered rather as an unnatural functional difficulty than as a structural disease."
The same authority has classified dyspepsia thus: The first form due to relations with other organs which are in a morbid and unhealthy state, which is characterized as a reflex action. Of such a type is the nausea and vomiting caused by irritation of brain, lungs, liver or uterus.
The second form is caused by scanty supply of gastric juice, made evident by slowness of digestion, long retention of food in the stomach, distress for a long time after meals, accompanied by weighty and uneasy feelings at pit of stomach, decomposition of food in alimentary canal causing fetid and foul gases and the appearance of undigested food in the evacuations from bowels.
The third and last form of dyspepsia, according to this renowned medical light, is that which accompanies some abnormal quality of the gastric juice, combined with a partial paralysis of the stomach's muscles so that this organ cannot sufficiently mix the food with the digestive fluids.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will remedy each condition of a stomach afflicted with dyspepsia as above described.
These tablets contain digestive agents which act with or without the aid of the stomach. One grain of an ingredient used in these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food and if necessary will do it in a glass vial so that the digestion can be seen by the human eye.
They help the stomach, enrich the blood, revitalize the gastric juices, give strength to the alimentary nerves and glands. They are recommended by every druggist and 40,000 physicians who use and prescribe them. WHAT HIT BRYAN.
That a portion of the credit for the defeat of Mr. Bryan belongs to his treacherous allies, that he was stabbed in the house of his friends, is seen on the face of the returns from New York. That was at least half expected, and in turning the trick Tammany did but repeat one of its most ancient and honorableascalities.
But this business was presumed to have been confined to New York. Not so! Turning to the same indisputable authority, the election returns, the Milwaukee Sentinel points out another lusty purveyor of the "double cross." It is none other than our old friend, "Rog" Sullivan, of Illinois. Discussing the whole nasty affair The Sentinel says:
"If ever a public man was the victim of misplaced confidence, that man is William J. Bryan."
"During the whole of the recent campaign repeated emphasis was laid on the fact that for the first time in many years democracy was 'united.' Bryan had accomplished the seeming impossible task of bringing into harmonious action all the discordant elements of his party. The men who had hitherto bitterly opposed Bryan were now all heartily for him. They were speaking for him and working for him. The union was complete, it was great. Tammany in New York and Hon. Patrick McCarrren in Brooklyn were to roll up an old time democratic plurality of 150,000 for Bryan, and victory was

A BALD-HEADED WOMAN
Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty Loses In Love and Marriage
Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald headed woman. What charms could one array to offset such a disfigurement?
A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness and success. Yet, right here in La Crosse, there are thousands of women who are neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.
Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated, or to excess, which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.
As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.
Almost anyone may rid themselves of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if they will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.
That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the remedy that will grow hair and overcome all scalp and hair troubles. It will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all the hair roots have been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and practical test.
We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You had better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. O. T. Erhart, 431 Main street.

SPOTLIGHTS
Florence Roberts Tonight.
With Florence Roberts in the leading role of "Lady Joan Meredith," Seymour Obermer's much discussed social drama, "The House of Bondage," will receive its initial production in this city at the La Crosse theatre tonight.
In selecting the play as Miss Roberts' vehicle for the current season, Mr. Cort appears to have chosen with wisdom, report crediting the play with being absorbingly interesting and offering Miss Roberts a role which is in every way congenial to her. Determined upon giving the play every advantage that cost can afford, Mr. Cort has engaged for Miss Roberts' support, such players as Arthur Forrest, Thurlow Bergen, ent Bosworth, Harry Gibbs, Ann Warrington and Mary Bertrand.
"The House of Bondage" appears to be a strikingly original work. The author plays upon the inconsistency and partiality of the English divorce laws in an interesting manner, showing the hardships British wives must suffer without relief while their husbands enjoy a legal discrimination that the rest of the world regards with indignant wonder. The piece is written in a brilliant vein, contains no lack of telling situations and at least two climaxes that are worthy of Florence Roberts' higher artistic gifts.
The "Three Twins" which comes to the La Crosse theatre Saturday matinee and evening, Nov. 7th, with the full prestige of a metropolitan success, having had a run of five months in Chicago at the Whitney opera house, and eight months in New York at the Herald Square theatre, where it scored such tremendous success with its beautiful music and wonderful electrical novelties. It is said to be the handsomest costumed company in America, including eight Parisian Directoire gowns which Mr. Jos. M. Gaites purchased in Paris especially for this production, which presents a ray of beauty when worn by the beautiful and shapely girls. The company is a tremendously large one and owing to the vast amount of heavy electrical equipment and scenery it requires two baggage cars to transport it. The electrical aerial swing weighs 4,000 pounds and is illuminated with 2,000 electrical lights and when revolving with six beautiful show girls in the baskets, it is said to present a most beautiful picture. There are many musical numbers that are musical hits, "The Cuddle Song," showing the seven ages of cuddling, is one of the most elaborate and sentimental stage pictures that has been produced in recent years. The "Yama Yama" song with the Yama Yama girls and their funny clown suits is a distinct novelty and Ashton Stevens of the New York Journal said it was the most titling piece of business that had been produced on Broadway in many years and he devoted an entire column to this one musical number.
The "Three Twins" is headed by Victor Morely who created the title role when the show was produced at the Whitney opera house, in Chicago, and includes Richard Bartlett, George S. Trimble, Eva Fallon, Maud Demarest, Della Niven, Bessie Clifford, Florenz Kolb, W. H. Woodside, Frank Smith, E. P. Bower, Ada Bateman, Marie Naskow and a large chorus.

Long Stock Company.
Commencing next Sunday with a matinee the Frank E. Long Stock company will open a week's engagement at the La Crosse theatre and will give to the patrons of the theatre a line of plays that are new and never before presented at popular prices. Every play will be presented with proper scenery and effects. So as to make each play as realistic as possible. The company has been carefully selected and has proven the best ever under this management. The Long company needs no introduction to the theatre goers of La Crosse. It goes without saying that the Long company is the oldest and the best. A good line of vaudeville will be introduced between acts headed by Mock Sad All, the clever Magician and illusionist. Following are some of the plays that will be presented by the company: "The Man That Stole," "Jane," "The Charity Nurse," "Kathleen Mavourne," "Amy the Circus Girl," "In the Days of '49," "A Vagabond's Honor," "A Bid for Liberty," and "The Girl and the Bandit."
Ladies free Monday night under the usual conditions.
The Amateurs at the Bijou.
Manager Koppelberger announces that several applications have been made for try outs at the Bijou tonight. The bill will include a comedy acrobatic stunt, a Norwegian folksong singer, a blackface song and dance team and several others. Besides the amateurs the regular excellent bill will also be provided.

IMPORTANT COURT DECISIONS
CONTEMPT OF COURT.—Defendants, who were attorneys employed by the defense in a murder trial, on denial of an application for a postponement, were told they must be ready to proceed on a certain day, less than a week later. One, only, appeared and argued a motion for a continuance, which was denied, although they were allowed three days more. Neither then appeared, both having left the jurisdiction. An order was then issued for their arrest for contempt. The supreme court of Michigan in In re McHugh et al., 116 Northwestern Reporter, 459, affirmed the decision of the lower court, that each should pay a fine of $250 and that one in addition should spend 30 days in jail.
If we could read the future as we can the past it would probably be just as unsatisfactory.

THE TURN OF THE TIDE
By Horace Annesley Vachell
(Copyrighted, 1908.)
A few more days brought him face to face with a puzzling moral exigency. Till now, he had scrupulously avoided any paths which might lead him to a more intimate social intercourse with the Vennables. That Joy, quite innocently, had indicated such paths to him, he knew, and the knowledge brought with it a curious, bitter-sweet satisfaction. She desired his companionship! More, he was assured that his avoidance of those pleasant paths which they might have trod together had aroused her pride and pricked it. Why, in the name of the Sphinx, should they always part as strangers to meet again almost as strangers? Had Hugo divined that this question was daily presented to Joy, he might have answered it directly by telling her his real name and the reasons why he had masqueraded as somebody else. Instead, he held his tongue, being obstinate, and—a stronger reason—fearful of losing her good opinion of him.
The moral exigency arose when she asked him to come to the Rectory to play cut-throat Bridge with the parson and herself. Tisdale happened to be present when she preferred this very natural request. And Tisdale answered:
"Why, of course he will. And it will be a capital thing. I ought to have prescribed it before. An hour, not more, every evening."
But Joy looked steadily at Hugo, wondering why he was silent.
"Will you come, Mr. Charteris?"
"With pleasure," he said quietly.
XV.
As he spoke, he salved his conscience with the determination to tell the truth at the first convenient opportunity. The Vennables, in any case, had sought him, not he them. And it would have been almost impossible to have refused the rector's invitation. Tisdale added a few words as soon as the men were alone.
"You will be doing a good deed," he said. "And, look here, talk to the dear old man about things outside the Forest. Fancy what it has been, buried alive in Hornsby Magna for five and twenty years, with the Pundles and the Bunays and the Mottisfont's all around him. Personally, I'd sooner associate with publicans and sinners—and, breathe it not!—so would he."
"I'm in rather a hole," said Hugo. "Look here, Tisdale, my name is Hugo Reginald Charteris, and if you can believe the halfpenny papers I'm one of the biggest blackguards in the kingdom!"
"Pheew-w!"
"That's why I've kept out of the Rectory."
Tisdale's eyes were very wide open. Then he threw back his head and laughed:
"Scapegoat is the word, isn't it?"
"I've been a fool and a knave," said Hugo slowly. "Two or three people have stripped the scales from my eyes, and you're one of them."
Then, very quietly, he added a few details. When he had finished, Tisdale understood that Hugo Charteris was bound to Angela Tempest; but whether or not the captive hugged his chains was an interesting problem which Tisdale felt unable to solve.
"I must tell the Vennables," said Hugo.
Tisdale screwed up his face, a grimace indicating not so much perplexity as a whimsical apprehension of two sides of a nice question.
"As to that," he said, presently. "You will, of course, do what you think proper, but, as Vennable's doctor, I absolutely forbid you to tell him till he is stronger."
"If he can play Bridge—"
"My dear fellow, Bridge amuses him. Your story will distress him. You'll aggravate his kindness of heart. After all, why should you tell them?"
"It's a sort of instinct."
"I understand that. And I respect such instincts. But in this particular case the truth can do no good, and may do some harm. Look at it this way: For the last month you've been fighting this plague with us. We wanted you, black or white, badly. And we want you still. George Vennable wants you. Between ourselves I'm worried about his heart. There is nearly always cardiac weakness after diphtheria. He must be kept quiet and amused. You can do it better than any man I know. Well, do it!"
"If I told Miss Vennable?"
"That's risky, too. You've seen enough of her to know that she's not a Pharisee, but I'm afraid she would judge you rather unmercifully. There was a case in this village—"
"I heard about that."
"And the word 'divorce' to a Mottisfont—oh, oh, she's half-Mottisfont, one must face that—is horrible. I don't suppose for an instant she read the full report of the trial—"
"Let us assume that she did, for the sake of argument. When then?"
Tisdale made a significant gesture. He was surprised that Charteris took things so coolly, almost with indifference. A phrase or two of McAllister's floated into his mind. The co-respondent throughout the trial had exhibited brutal indifference.

Home Treatment for Skin Diseases

The recent discovery that the drug citrox is a cure for eczema, tetter, salt rheum and other skin diseases has been of unestimable value to those suffering from all forms of skin diseases. The treatment is simple indeed—as it generally is when the right remedy is at last discovered. Purchase a small sealed package of Pure Citrox, just as it comes from the chemical works.

Dissolve a teaspoonful of citrox in two tablespoonfuls of warm water and bathe the affected skin twice daily, using a fresh solution each time for the treatment.

The discovery that citrox would cure skin diseases is claimed by several scientists, but in all probability Dr. J. E. Currier, of London, England, is the person to whom the credit of the discovery should be given. As it is with most important discoveries, there are many ready to claim the credit now that citrox is proving of such value.

BOAT THIEVES ARE HARSHLY PUNISHED

A warning to river thieves was sounded in Judge Brindley's court when Frank Reif was convicted of stealing a boat valued at $20 and was sentenced to one year at Green Bay reformatory. Charles Lowery, charged with stealing a spark coil and batteries from George Holzhammer, released on his own recognizance, is being sought, having failed to appear for trial.

BLANCHARD, N. D., HAS A BAD FIRE

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 6.—Fire at Blanchard, in Traill county, wiped out the Woodmen's hall, Blanchard Mercantile company, A. A. Britton's general store, McComb hotel, Melbin's butcher shop, Menving's news stand, postoffice and family residences. The fire started in the Woodmen's hall. The town was without fire protection. W. E. BARBER TOASTMASTER

Debate Last Night on Roosevelt's Wisdom Dropped and Tariff Discussion Substituted

The Franklin club held a meeting Thursday night and the question for debate was, "Resolved, that the part taken by President Roosevelt in the last campaign was unwise." That question was dropped and the question, "Resolved, that all raw materials should be put on the free list," was substituted, but on account of the small number of members present the question was discussed by Mr. P. M. Mahoney, who took the affirmative, and Mr. W. E. Barber, who discussed the negative. After this question was discussed a banquet committee was appointed. Mr. Barber was appointed as toastmaster and the committee named is H. L. Taylor, H. Spence, George B. Marvin, Jr., P. W. Mahoney and A. H. Schubert. The committee is to report at the next meeting.

Marvin will lead the negative, and a very interesting debate is expected. A cordial invitation is given to the members of the North Side Progressive league to attend this debate.

WHISKEY FOR CONSUMPTION

The increased use of whiskey for consumption is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is declared by medical authorities to be unequalled:

Mix half pint of good whiskey with two ounces of glycerine and add one-half ounce Concentrated pine compound. The bottle is to be well shaken each time and used in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours.

Any good druggist can supply these ingredients and will make the mixture or it can be mixed at home.

The Concentrated pine is a special pine product refined for medical use and comes only in half ounce bottles each enclosed in a round wood case, which is air-tight to secure all the original strength of the fluid, but be sure it is labeled "Concentrated" to get the genuine article.

GOMPERS WILL NOT SEEK PRESIDENCY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Before departing for Denver to preside at the annual convention of the Federation of Labor, Gompers, in an interview today, declared he is not a candidate for re-election as president of the Federation, "in the sense that I seek the office. If I am not wanted for another term, so be it." He declared he is in the Federation to stay. If not as president, he would take a position in the ranks. He defended his course in supporting Bryan and declared he would explain his attitude from the floor of the convention.

John W. Hayes, grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, but not affiliated with the federation, today declared Gompers and his associates should explain their authority for taking the Federation into politics.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

The second week in November throughout the world is observed by the Young Women's Christian association as the Week of Prayer.

During the past year many associations have erected new buildings, started boarding houses and organized new departments. As members of a world wide movement the association has cause for thanksgiving that so much has been accomplished.

The local association is fortunate in having Miss Elizabeth Clark, one of the national secretaries from New York, present on Tuesday.

Miss Clark has traveled on both continents and has a wide experience as a secretary. She will give some personal reminiscences in Africa.

All young women are invited to the services next week—whether they are members or not. It will be an excellent opportunity to become better acquainted with the work and learn what thousands of other young women are doing.

Program for Week.

Rev. Sanders. Singers, the Misses Mahlum.

Tuesday noon, 12 to 1—Miss Elizabeth Clark, national secretary from New York. Subject, "Half an Hour

ing will be taken to help in the world's work. Violin solo, Miss ciation auditorium.

Overfatness Condemned

Fat, or even fattish, women readers who want to be in the mode this year must understand that the demand is for lines, not curves, and govern themselves accordingly.

That means OFF with the fat. It has become a duty. Many are trying exercise or dieting; but it is certain they will find these methods too slow and unreliable. The cheapest and safest way to get in form for the Di-rectoire mode is by means of Marmola Prescription Tablets. Any druggist (or the Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich.) will give you a large-sized case of these elegant little fat reducers, containing a good, generous supply, for seventy-five cents, and even this quantity should be enough to make a decided impression on your excess fat. Many have lost as much as a pound a day.

These Marmola Prescription Tablets may be used with impunity and likewise perfect confidence, for, being made strictly in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription, they are, of course, quite harmless. They are rather beneficial than otherwise, in fact, never disturbing the stomach or causing a wrinkling of the flesh.

To Wash Flannels

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is ideal for that purpose.

Read these directions:

Brush and shake flannels free from dust. Make a suds in lukewarm water. Let the flannels soak ten minutes. Meanwhile, make a strong soap suds in a quart of warm water, using a soft brush to get the soap off the cake. Squeeze and press the flannel in the soapy water; if any soiled parts appear, stretch the part on a smooth surface and rub the strong suds into the cloth with the brush. Use a wringer for flannels; do not twist them. Put flannels through a second light suds if they are much soiled, always having each water to be used no warmer than the first. Rinse until water is clear, using two or three waters if necessary and adding a little soap to each water if it is hard. Stretch garments into shape and hang them to dry. Underwear will need no pressing, but dress goods should be taken while damp and ironed till dry with a warm (not hot) iron. Iron the wrong side of the material if possible; if not, cover material with a cotton cloth of the same color and press until dry.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is sold by good grocers everywhere.

The price is 5 cents a cake.

REDEDICATION OF HISTORIC CHURCH

ST. GABRIEL'S OF PRAIRIE DU CHIEN REMODELED

RECALLS ROMANTIC HISTORY

Edifice Was Built 75 Years Ago, When Astors and Vanderbilts Thought Town Metropolis

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Nov. 6.—(Special.)—The re-dedication of St. Gabriel's Catholic church on North Church street will take place next Sunday, Nov. 8.

This fine old building, erected more than 75 years ago, is one of the most historic in southwestern Wisconsin. When it was built Prairie du Chien was looked upon as the future metropolis of the northwest. At that time the Astor family held real estate here, the Vanderbilts bought property still belonging to their heirs in what is now lower town, and many less prominent persons came or invested here. St. Gabriel's has witnessed the passing of the red man and his canoe from the Mississippi river, has seen the steamboat rivalled and almost superseded by the railroad, and has survived Fort Crawford and its garrisons.

Three generations have worshipped within its massive stone walls, and the parish register contains many distinguished names.

The building has, this past summer, been thoroughly renovated and rebuilt, repairing the natural wear and decay of its long existence. It is now entirely modern in all its furnishings and decorations and is an edifice of which every citizen in Prairie du Chien may be proud.

effort at reform met with little assistance from the supreme board of directors and he went on hoping all would come right in the end. All this has been fairly shown by the evidence. His personal honesty has never been assailed and I believe in it. I am advised outside the records that he has undergone total financial ruin, besides the disgrace of conviction. In the case of the defendant Curtis, the sentence is suspended.

There was a murmur of approval. Morse Is Scored.

Morse then stood before the judge, who said:

"In the case of Morse nothing can be said or added to the evidence. As nearly always in cases of criminal illegality in finance, he used the bank for a larger general scheme and the depositors' money for his own speculative purposes. If such schemes shall not entail severe punishment and are allowed to be carried out with impunity, the public is at the mercy of bank adventurers, and the sentence of this court is that the defendant Morse be placed for 15 years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga." The court granted 10 days for filing an application for a writ of error, remanding Morse to the Tombs.

THAW TRUSTEE DIES.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—Frank Semple, aged 67, the financier and philanthropist, who is in charge of the Wm. Thaw estate, died today of pneumonia.

ONLY BILLIONAIRE IN THE WORLD

FREDERICK WEYERHAUSER

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 4.—Frederick Weyerhaeuser is richer than John D. Rockefeller, is the only living billionaire in the world, and is the timber king of America.

This modest though aged financier is comparatively little known, although he owns 32,000,000 acres of timber land in the state of Washington alone. He has thousands of partners, but none know his relations with the others.

Mr. Weyerhaeuser has attracted considerable attention of late by his optimistic view of the situation on the supply of lumber. When seen at his home in St. Paul he was asked regarding these statements, and somewhat startled your correspondent by the first sentence he uttered. "I have been in the lumber business for 52 years," he said. Continuing he told how he had begun lumbering at La Crosse, Wis., on the Black river.

"At that time," he said, "people were crying that the lumber men were cutting down the timber so fast that the supply would soon be exhausted."

"We took 40,000,000 feet a year out of the Black river country, and later increased it to 200,000,000 feet," Mr. Weyerhaeuser, "and we are still taking logs there. At that time they said we did not have timber enough to last 10 years."

Asked about the best way to conserve the forests, Mr. Weyerhaeuser said the main thing was to prevent fires.

"There has been much timber burned in Minnesota and Wisconsin in the last year and a great deal within the last ten weeks. The only way to prevent fires is to cut out the standing timber. The state should look after the prevention of fires and the reforestation of cut over or burned over lands. It takes 200 years to raise full grown pine trees, and the owners of pine lands are taxed on the land and taxed on the timber, and we can't pay for our timber too often. We have paid as high as $160 to $200 taxes on 40-acre tracts. The taxes are governed largely by local people."

Mr. Weyerhaeuser said his company paid school taxes in one district where there were only two pupils to attend the public schools. They had to build a school and hire a teacher.

Asked as to the future supply of timber in this country, he said that there was an immense stock of timber in the far west. That is where it would come from in the future.

LOWELL MAY SUCCEED ELIOT AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 6.—The question of the probable successor to President Eliot of Harvard is generally discussed and the list of possible candidates is growing. The man generally mentioned as having the best chance is Prof. A. As a member of the famous Lowell family of Cambridge, Prof. Lowell's blood inheritance is closely related to the best traditions of Harvard college.

ETHEL ROOSEVELT NEAR DEATH

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 6.—President Roosevelt's daughter, Ethel, had a narrow escape at yesterday's meet of the Genesee Valley Hunt club on the Wadsworth estate. The run was seven miles and an exciting one. Miss Roosevelt in taking a jump was almost unhorsed. The horn on her saddle broke and her mount was going at a fast clip with Miss Roosevelt hanging in a dangerous position. Harry Wilson, a young colored boy, went at whirlwind speed and rescued her from her plight.

TOO POLITE FOR "BROWNSVILLIANS"

MR. THORNBURY FEEDS RUN-AWAY ORPHANS

STRUCK BY POLITE MANNERS

Calls in Authorities and it Is Found the Lads Had Sought to See the Big, Wide World

When Roy Hall, aged 6, August Retzlaff, aged 11, and John Singer, aged 7, attempted to run away from St. Michael's school for boys in this city, with the intention of "going into the world," everything went well with them until supper time came and then they obtained their first taste of what going out into the wide world is.

The plot was deeply laid. Chafing under the discipline of school life, the three little fellows decided to take a chance in the world and so when the watch was a little slack, they seized the opportunity to escape. Once outside of the school grounds they wandered around the city enjoying the "sights" and everything went well. With the coming of night came supper time, and with the coming of supper time came bed time, and for the first time they realized that it wasn't so easy to live after running away as they had imagined.

But they got together and after much discussion settled upon a plan that would at least bring a supper. They started in on East Cass street and at several houses they stopped with a tale of woe. They claimed they had come to La Crosse from Brownsville to visit a boy friend, but upon arriving here the friend's relatives refused to take them in. This story, despite its pathetic features, only brought them gruff remarks from the majority of the houses and "advice" from the others, but at last they stopped at the home of John Thornbury. The same story was told. Although a little skeptical, Mr. Thornbury invited the boys in and after giving them a warm supper attempted to draw out their story. They stoutly maintained however that they were from Brownsville and that they had merely come up on a visit. The manners and polite air of the little fellows attracted Mr. Thornbury's attention and while the boys were busy eating he called up the police station and the runaways were later taken in tow. Even when at the station they maintained that they had come to La Crosse on a visit and had been "turned down."

"Well, I never saw three boys with better manners," remarked Mr. Thornbury to the desk sergeant.

"That gives me an idea," replied the latter, and off he went to visit the runaways.

He got the three boys together and with a smile said, "Why did you fellows run away from St. Michael's school out here? Oh, I know who you are, all right."

"Who told you?" sheepishly queried Roy Hall, the youngest of the trio.

The mystery was solved.

Iodine and Light.

If it is necessary to use iodine for painting the skin in medical treatment it is worth remembering that the painting should be done in the dark or in a red light such as is used in photography.

If this is done and the painted portion of the skin be covered without being exposed to white light it will not blister nor stain the flesh even if the painting is repeated a good many times.—New York Sun.

Deer.

Deer will eat almost any kind of grain or grass, even preferring the rank weeds to the choicest hay. They should always have an abundant supply of clear, running water. About the greatest item of expense connected with raising deer is the cost of fencing. The fawns are usually born in the spring or early summer. Does, as a rule, have but one fawn at first, but subsequently twins are born and in rare cases triplets.—Kansas City Star.

WILL DEAL SHARPLY WITH OFFENDERS

HOURS OF SERVICE LAW IS IN THE BALANCE

ESCH MEASURE IMPORTANT

If Sustained, Court is Expected to Deal Most Vigorously With the B. & O. Officials

(By J. C. Welliver.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 6.—Severe punishment, not stopping short of the imprisonment of prominent railroad officials, awaits a decision in favor of the government of a test case brought by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company vs. the Interstate Commerce commission involving the validity of the so-called hours of service law. Should the supreme court decide in favor of the commission and uphold the law, railroads and officials who have been standing out against it will be liable to sharp penalties.

The hours of service law became effective March 4, 1908, and under it the commission issued an order requiring the railroads to file monthly reports of the cases wherein employees work more than the number of hours provided by the law. A number of railroads, including the New York Central, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Boston and Maine, Central of New Jersey, Lackawanna, Lehigh, New York, New Haven and Hartford, Pennsylvania and Philadelphia and Reading, have begun suits asking for injunctions to restrain the commission from requiring these reports on the ground the commission lacks the authority; that the commission's requirement calls on the roads to furnish incriminating evidence; that the violations of law will inevitably occur through oversight, inadvertence or mistake, and that evidence of such violations would have to be recorded on the company's books, making a record of violation of law accessible to the interstate commerce commission and usable for the purpose of enforcing penalties against the railroad officials and the corporations.

Taking advantage of the expediting act, the government has arranged for the hearing of the case of the Baltimore and Ohio vs. the interstate commerce commission at Richmond, Va., November 17, before Circuit Judge Pritchard and Goff and District Judge Morris. Prominent attorneys will appear on both sides. As soon as a decision is had, appeal will follow to the supreme court, either by the government or by the company. In the supreme court, the case will take precedence over all other cases except criminal ones. The case is looked on as one of much importance both by the commission and by the railroad companies. John G. Johnson of Philadelphia will assist F. D. McKenney of this city in arguing the case for the commission.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Nov. 6.—

The trial of Grant Poole, accused of the murder of Mrs. E. H. Orvis of Oakfield, has by agreement between the state attorney and the attorney representing the defendant, been placed at the foot of the jury calendar and will be the last jury trial to be heard at the present term of court. This means that it will probably be two weeks before the case is reached. The case is one that attracts a good deal of interest by reason of the sensational features connected with the crime. Poole, who had been denied the privilege of calling on one of the daughters of Mrs. Orvis, is charged with having shot his victim in cold blood as she was leaving the Methodist church at Oakfield on Sunday, May 31. The crime was witnessed by the entire congregation, the woman being slain just as she had turned from shaking hands with the pastor, the Rev. Sabin Halsey. She fell in the vestibule of the church and died almost instantly. Poole ran for the rocky ledges near Oakfield but was captured that evening and brought to jail in this city. During his confinement he has been morose and he has not even been trusted with a knife and fork lest he might make an attempt on his life. It is understood that insanity will be the defense.

CHAIRMAN EDMONDS ONCE A DEMOCRAT

SWITCHED TO LA FOLLETTE AND THEN TO STEPHENSON

LEGISLATURE IS REPUBLICAN

Davidson Will Have Almost Solid Body to Back Him Up in the Reform Legislation Promised

MADISON, WIS., Nov. 6.—(Special.)—One of the interesting things that has just come to light is that E. A. Edmonds, who managed Stephenson's campaign and then the republican campaign in the state, is an old member of the legislature. He was elected as a democrat from Oconto Falls in 1891 and served one term. Later when Gov. La Follette sent up the call for the fair-minded democrats to assist him in the fight for representative government, Edmonds joined the republican forces.

Gov. Davidson will have a strong republican legislature to back him in his reform legislation which he pledged the people of the state to enact at the coming session. The republicans carried all the twelve senatorial districts in which elections were held and made a gain of one. The seat held by C. H. Smith of Markesan, democrat, will be held by E. J. Lyons, of Fond du Lac, a republican. W. R. Gaylord of Milwaukee, a social democrat, will take the place of Senator Jacob Rummel, who was the first senatorial representative of that party in the legislature. The senate will stand, 28 republicans, 4 democrats and 1 social democrat.

The assembly from present returns will stand, 74 republicans, 23 democrats and 3 social democrats. In the lower house the democrats make a gain of three, two from the republicans and one from the social democrats.

New Men in Senate.

Of the new men in the senate, Timothy Burke of Green Bay, an assemblyman at the last session, will take the place of Henry Hagemester, who has served eight years. Among some of the well known members to be returned at this election are John M. Whitehead, Janesville; James A. Wright, Merrill; Thomas Morris, La Crosse, and A. W. Sanborn of Ashland. W. C. Owen of Malden Rock, who served out the term left vacant by the elevation of James A. Frear to the office of the secretary of state two years ago, is re-elected.

D. G. James of Richland Center, who takes the place of O. G. Munson, private secretary to Gov. Davidson, is an old soldier, a hero of Libby prison and a trustee of the Waupaca home. John W. Thomas, formerly railroad commissioner during the administration of Gov. La Follette, has been chosen to succeed Dr. J. H. Noble from Eau Claire. John S. Donald of Mount Horeb, elected to succeed A. M. Stodal, served two terms in the assembly and was then classed as a "progressive." J. J. Blaine of Bosobel will take the place of Senator Burns, who for many years was the chairman of the senate finance committee.

Senator Wolff Retires.

Senator Wolff, one of the best known of the conservatives, is succeeded by Henry Krumrey of Plymouth, a strong supporter of Senator La Follette, who served in the assembly several years ago. J. E. Lehr, a university graduate from Appleton, takes the place of Senator Frank M. Wilcox, who declined to run again.

In the assembly there will be a lively fight over the speakership, with indications that the contest will settle down between E. W. Le Roy of Marinette and M. J. Cleary of La Fayette county. Others who will be in the contest are: L. H. B. of Richland Center; C. A. Ingram, Durand; C. E. Estabrook, Milwaukee; L. W. Ledvina, Manitowoc, and W. J. Ingalls of Racine.

Well Known Assemblymen.

John C. Chapple of Ashland, a brother of the editor and owner of the National Magazine, is chosen from Ashland. George E. Scott, of Prairie Farm, who has built a novel store miles from any railroad station, is re-elected. He was chairman of the committee on finance, banks and insurance last year. Thos. Stewart of Dane county and Henry Rollman of Calumet, two well known democrats of the last session, have been returned. John F. Hughes of Reeseville, author of the anti-tights bill at the last session, has been returned to champion his ideas; H. E. Roethe, legomobile editor from Fennimore, will be back, and Chris Wellensgard of Berlin, and Christian Pickarts of Fond du Lac, are among those whose past services received endorsement by the people at the recent election.

Thomas S. Ramsey of Milwaukee, who was defeated two years ago by L. H. Palmer, the first colored man to serve in the assembly, was elected this year. W. M. Bray will take the place of William Perry of Oshkosh, who served two terms and was chairman of the assembly committee on military affairs at the last session. Fred Brockhausen of Milwaukee, one of the most eloquent men at the recent session, was returned by the socialist party, and Grant U. Fisher of Janesville will take the place of Pily Norcross of Janesville, who served three terms.

Various phases of newspaper and magazine work for Prof. W. G. Bleyer's classes in newspaper writing at the University of Wisconsin was given today by E. E. Slosson, New York, literary editor of the The Independent, his subject being the making of a modern magazine. Dr. Slosson analyzed in an interesting and suggestive manner the elements that contribute to the success of the popular magazine and their relation to newspaper and literary work. An informal discussion with the members of the class followed Dr. Slosson's talk.

As a part to their practical training the students in the newspaper classes assisted in the compilation of election returns on election night at the office of the Wisconsin State Journal.

COLOR BLIND MAN NO JUDGE OF BEER

ITS MERIT DEPENDS UPON THE COLOR OF BOTTLE

LIGHT ACTION IS IMPORTANT

Consul Norton Says German Experiment Shows Matter Seriously Important

(By J. C. Welliver.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 6.—One should exercise much care as to what is the color of the bottle out of which he drinks his beer. This is the information conveyed to the department of commerce and labor by Consul Thomas H. Norton of Chemnitz, Germany, who says much popular interest is taken in experiments now being made as to the proper color for beer bottles.

It has been conclusively shown, according to Consul Norton, that the taste and odor of beer are equally sensitive to the action of the direct rays of the sun and even to diffused daylight. Careful experiments show that the constituents of beer which undergo so readily a change on exposure to light are products of fermentation and are not present as such in the original wort. Dark beer is found also to be much more sensitive to light than light-colored beer.

A German authority on brewing has now shown by an exhaustive series of experiments that no form of colored glass when used for beer bottles affords absolute protection against the effects of exposure to sunlight, and that a wide diversity in degree of protection is observed when glass of different tints is employed. The highest measure of protection is yielded by dark, reddish-brown glass. The ordinary bottles, green or champagne bottles afford much less resistance and still less is given if the glass is bluish green.

Mr. Norton give an account of a simple test to enable the bottler of beer to discriminate easily and rapidly between the different grades of colored glass bottles which are offered for sale. It consists in introducing into bottles of different hues a dilute solution of ferric ammonium citrate, potassium ferrioxalate and oxalic acid, such as is employed for making blue prints. When introduced into bottles, the liquid at first being yellowish in color, the formation of the blue on exposure to sunlight is prevented or retarded, according to the color of the glass.

Too Correct.

Richard Harding Davis, one of Westchester county's new deputy sheriffs, came into White Plains with his kennel master the other day. While awaiting his kennel master outside a dog biscuit shop, Mr. Harding Davis discussed sport.

"Sport is as good here as it is abroad," he said, "but abroad they are more punctilious. Your Englishman must always be correct. He has a wardrobe of smooth, sleek, dark clothes for town; a wardrobe of knickerbockers and thick woollens for Alpine winter sports; a wardrobe of flannels for the seashore, and so on, with other wardrobes for deer-stalking, for fox hunting, for driving, even for smoking and drinking."

"I remember once, in my early youth, I was shooting over a duke's covers. A very grave and elegant young marquis was stationed near me. Suddenly the duke shouted to the marquis:

"There goes a hare! Let him have it!"

"But the marquis shook his head. 'I can't, duke,' he said, 'I'm in my pheasant costume.'"—Washington Star.

URGES NATIONAL "CHILD BUREAU"

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3.—The national child labor committee is renewing its efforts to get congress to pass a bill to establish a national children's bureau in the department of the interior. A bill on this subject was introduced in the senate in the first session of the Fifty-ninth congress and was endorsed by President Roosevelt and Secretary Hitchcock, as well as by many members of congress. It did not, however, reach a vote.

The idea of establishing such a bureau is not original. Such bureaus are in existence in England, Germany and France and they have done effective work for the betterment of the conditions surrounding child life. The plan for the bureau that is proposed for this country comprehends the compilation of the statistical results of the census bearing on childhood and child labor without duplicating any statistical inquiries that are now in progress. It also has in view employment of experts to examine into exceptional conditions with respect to high and low infant mortality and reports upon such conditions; also upon the conditions surrounding juvenile crime, the most successful methods of dealing with the problems presented in infantile courts, the reasons for child labor in particular industries, the operation of child labor laws, the methods of meeting the problems of juvenile dependency and related questions.

In many cities, study of the home life of children has been taken up by the school authorities and in some instances systems of medical examination have been adopted. The proposed national children's bureau would supplement work of this kind.

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 6.—Henry Olla paid a fine of $1 in connection with a fight and the death of John Harms on Oct. 4. District Attorney Thompson asked that Olla be held on a charge of assault and battery. Olla pleaded guilty.

ONE MORE DAY OF THE TRIBUNE CONTEST

VOTES THAT ARE NOT RECEIVED BEFORE 10 O'CLOCK SATURDAY NIGHT WILL BE LOST

BUT ONE DAY REMAINS IN THE TRIBUNE CONTEST

The Standing of Candidates as Printed Below is According to the Count Made up to Tuesday Morning

CONTESTANTS ARE WORKING HARDER THAN EVER TO WIN

Display of Reserve by Some Candidates in Tuesday's Paper Has the Effect of Making Candidates Work Harder Than Ever.

Don't Forget, the Contest Closes Saturday, November 7th.

WARNING TO ALL CANDIDATES

This is written merely as a matter of caution, and it is of the utmost importance that all candidates, and others interested, especially those candidates outside of La Crosse, read and weigh every line of it. We would dislike to see any candidate lose any votes because of the excitement that is sure to come during the last days of the contest or because of any misunderstanding on their part. It is impossible for you to exercise too much care in arriving at a full understanding of the rules and conditions governing the closing of the contest.

First—All votes and remittances (no matter what time mailed), must be received at The La Crosse Tribune office by 10 o'clock, Saturday night, November 7th.

If not received by this hour, they are worthless, and will not be counted.

Second—All votes and remittances mailed after Thursday night should bear a special delivery stamp.

Third—If you live outside the city and intend to mail your votes, take the precaution to find out exactly the time the registry department of your postoffice closes, and in regard to the train service on which your votes will be carried.

Fourth—All remittances and votes should be addressed to the "Contest Manager," and not to any individuals. This is to prevent confusion.

Fifth—Be sure that your name is on all ballots before sending to this office. This is very important.

Sixth—But in any case votes to be counted must be received in the Tribune office before 10 o'clock Saturday night, November 7th. If not received by this hour, they are worthless, and will not be counted.

Seventh—The announcement of the winners of all prizes will be made in the Tribune, Monday, November 9th.

Look over the above conditions carefully. Do not make up your mind that you understand any particular one until you are absolutely sure of its full meaning. If the precaution of careful reading is adhered to closely, there should be no vain regrets concerning rejected votes not cast because they did not conform to the rules of the contest. If in doubt concerning any point, ask questions until everything is perfectly clear.

The contest manager has done his part to make clear the conditions under which the votes must be registered to the end that they may be counted. It is all plain enough sailing and he just wants to utter a caution to the contestants. Of course there is not much use of advising anybody against the practice of holding out votes and trying to deceive competitors by a show of indifference. That is a matter for the contestant to decide for himself. The essential thing is to get the votes into office, and if there are votes being held out now—and one who has been watching the contest would be justified in assuming that there are—why, they had better be got to the office in time.

This contest will close on the stroke of 10 o'clock, standard time, Saturday night. Votes brought to the Tribune office at 10:01 will get nothing but a tired smile from a tired clerk. Votes that are mailed a minute too late will be of no avail.

If the contestants will keep that in mind the Tribune does not care if the votes do not come in until 9:59 1/2 Saturday night. But if the contest editor was a candidate instead of a mere looker-on, he would not take a chance on getting his vote in at that time. There is nothing like having a little leeway. He would not wait until the last moment before closing his list. He would cut off a few hours at the finish and give himself that much time in case of accidents. Trains go wrong; crowds sometimes bustle a man so that he cannot get through.

The Tribune will make every possible provision to take care of the people who bring in their votes personally Saturday evening. It will provide a sufficient clerical force and it will see that no time is wasted and that every contestant who gets votes in in time has those votes counted. But it cannot put the clock back, and it is utterly helpless so far as accepting votes that are overdue.

It won't do a candidate a bit of good to have a few hundred thousand votes all ready to cast and to keep them too long. When the child who cast his ballots is riding by in that fine Tony Pony Outfit it won't help you a bit to say: "I had enough votes to beat that fellow, but I didn't get them in." And the contest editor is not going to indulge in any reminiscence sympathy when this is all over. There will be congratulations for the winners and admiration for those who made a good fight and went down to defeat, but there will be nothing doing for the candidate who fails to get his votes in on time to have them counted.

You see The Tribune has no discretion in the matter. When the polls are closed they are closed to stay closed and that is all there is to it.

There never was a contest which excited quite the interest that this present one has. It is not only a matter of individual preference, but cities, towns and counties are lining up behind candidates. And it is certain that there will be a hot finish so far as The Tribune is concerned. There will be a lot of people about and it will not be easy to dispose of the final count, and will be able to announce the winners shortly after the count begins.

The advice of the Contest Editor is to get your votes in early and never mind the moral effect on your campaign. This is anybody's and everybody's fight and there is no use of counting one's eggs—or prizes—till one is sure of them. And next to having votes enough to win the best thing is to have your votes in on plenty of time to have them counted.

Finish Will Be Exciting.

These last two days are going to be exciting ones. The rank and file of the contestants—those who have not hitherto shown winning form in the number of votes registered—have come to an appreciation of the fact that in some districts there are anybody's who will go out and do a day's work to win them. There is no one quite safe anywhere for the reason that so many are obviously concealing their strength, while so many more sources while, as a matter of fact, they have all their votes counted.

Much may be done in two days, much will be done. That is certain. But let it be done right and finished. But one of the saddest spectacles that could be witnessed would be that sight of a contestant standing just without The Tribune office door at 10 p. m., Saturday, with enough votes in his hand to win a pony outfit.

Easy To Win.

And those persons who have been content to stand and wait as candidates in The Tribune contest quite alive to the possibility of the campaign for prizes? Have they used discretion in weighing the possibilities of getting prizes at the cost of comparatively little exertion? Perhaps it is not the business of the contest manager to do any worrying for the people who get into the campaign in the various districts and who are content to remain in what the politicians call a receptive attitude. But you will notice that the political figures who get into the receptive attitude frequently get out of it—they keep on waiting. The contest manager has no interest in any one candidate or set of candidates and the result will make no difference to The Tribune at the finish, for it is simply under engagement to distribute so many specified prizes to the persons entitled to them. That engagement it will discharge as soon as possible after the campaign closes, but the contest manager can not refrain from pointing to the fact that it looks very much as though some people in some of the districts are letting the prizes slip through their fingers without making much effort to grasp them.

But Two Days Remain.

Friday and Saturday are the remaining days in The Tribune's great Tony Pony contest. On Saturday evening it will be determined who the children are who will win the four Tony Pony Outfits. The candidates have done nobly up to date and their efforts are not relaxing during the remaining days. Subscriptions are pouring into The Tribune office at an unprecedented rate and thousands of votes are going into the reserves. When the last count is made these reserves will be exposed for the first time and upon them depends largely who will be the lucky contestants. Persons who have promised to vote for some boy or girl in this contest should do so by subscribing for The Tribune within the next two days. A little help now will be worth a barrel of consolation after the race is over. Two days is not a very long time, but it is going to be filled with the greatest possible effort on behalf of the candidates, and with the greatest possible interest and enthusiasm on behalf of the general public. There was never a contest held in this vicinity which excited the interest of so many people as has this contest. And no wonder. There are over two hundred children directly interested in it and there are hundreds and hundreds of people working for the young people. The two days which remain in this contest will be the most spirited of all and will count more than all the previous time combined.

No More Votes Returned.

From now on no more votes will be returned to the contestants out side of the city, but will be deposited in the ballot box at once. This is done for the reason that delays very often occur in transmitting the mail and a delay at this time would mean the loss of thousands of votes. Contestants can rest assured that they will be given proper credit and votes for all subscriptions sent to this office between now and Saturday, but all votes will be deposited in the ballot box as soon as received.

Those who depend on the mail to bring in their votes and subscriptions should mail them not later than Friday, so as to be sure that every vote will be in the ballot box on time. If they are mailed on Saturday they should bear a special delivery stamp, because all votes must be received at this office by 10 o'clock Saturday night in order to count. No votes will be accepted after this hour. Candidates who have subscriptions should bring them in as early as possible to avoid the rush of the last few days.

For the benefit of those who are not able to get to this office during business hours the Contest Department will be open every evening.

Following is the standing of the contestants according to the count on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

A Beautiful Face

The Secret of Parisian Women's Beautiful Complexions.

(From Chicago Record-Herald.)
To the minds of most women, famous are the ladies of Paris for making themselves charming and beautiful. And yet it is a fact that Parisiennes, so far as features are concerned, haven't beautiful faces, as a rule. Their beauty consists largely of immaculate complexion. An American lady, visiting a friend in Paris, obtained from her the secret of the clear, charming complexion of French women and says that it is a wash that is prepared at home and applied to the face daily. Obtain at your drug store Rose Water, 2 ounces; Cologne Spirits, 1 ounce; Epsom salt, 4 ounces. Put the Epsom salt in a pint of hot water (not boiling), and after dissolved, strain and let cool. Then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirits.

The above wash is easily and quickly prepared at home, and is a most delightful toilet preparation, harmless even to a baby's face, and soothing to tender skins. Its application daily will work wonders with even the plainest complexions, transforming the sallow and unsightly into the fresh, delicate bloom of youth.

Miss Madeline Edison, just turned 21, both winsome and intellectual, is following the inventive footsteps of Thomas Edison, her distinguished father. Miss Edison has for years past been the inspirational comrade of her father in his magical experiments in the field of electricity. Now, in conjunction with her brother, "Billy" Edison, she has invented an ingenious automobile road map for autoing.

An enthusiastic autoist, she has been a familiar figure in her big 45-horse power Hotchkiss speeding along the smooth roads about the Oranges. This road map, like the compass of a ship, goes on the steering column in a dust and rain proof case, and is lighted by electricity at night.

When a car is speeding along the road laid out in the tour being taken a cyclometer attachment records the miles, and a tiny black steel bar indicates the location of the car at the time.

Miss Edison was graduated last year from Bryn Mawr college. There she underwent a thorough course in electricity, chemistry and the applied sciences. She was noted in college for her intellectual powers and took high honors in chemistry. Throughout her course she received the aid of her father, with whom she has always been a favorite.

Of a quiet and studious disposition, she has been much with her father in his experiments at Llewellyn Park, in Orange. Persons admitted to the "Wizard's" laboratory have often been pleasantly surprised to find Miss Edison aiding her father in experiments that have worked wonders in the electrical world.

Miss Edison made her social debut last June at a large lawn party at Glenmont, her parents' home in Llewellyn Park, and has received much attention. Miss Edison has displayed dramatic talent of note. She has been selected as one of the principal characters in the Yuletide pageant to be given by Miss Margaret Jorolaman in the Bijou theater for the benefit of the Arange Memorial hospital on Saturday afternoon and evening, November 21.

When Miss Edison was graduated in 1906 from the Oak place private school at Akron, Ohio, she received a check for $10,000 from her father as a graduation gift.

Western wire houses were heavy buyers and a majority of important room traders were active on the bull side. Government bonds unchanged, others strong and active.

The buying wave became more extensive after the noon hour Union Pacific, Steel common, Southern Pacific and New York Central were prominent. Later in the afternoon Rock Island became active.

SENTENCED FOR BEATING HIS WIFE

"To tell the truth, Judge," said Dick Watts when arraigned in county court this morning charged with wife beating, "I wouldn't have done it if I hadn't been drunk. Honest."

"Well, I guess you'll have to spend $20.00 and costs or 30 days in jail for the mixup anyway," was Judge Brindley's reply and being short the required "twenty" he was forced to board at the jail for the next 30 days.

Watts, according to the testimony, has the bad habit of getting a "load" and then proceeding to vent his temper on his wife.

PALMA IS BURIED.

HAVANA, Nov. 6.—The funeral of Palma took place at 4 this afternoon at Santiago, with military and state honors. The failure of the newspaper organ of Jose Miguel Gomez, and Doctor Alfredo Zayas, candidates respectively for president and vice president on the liberal ticket, to join the common expression of tribute, aroused the people and will have a damaging effect on the liberals' chances.

TO INVESTIGATE EXPLOSIONS.

DRYDEN, Ontario, Nov. 6.—An investigation by the Dominion government of the premature explosions of dynamite causing 12 deaths within 3 days, is demanded by workmen employed on the National Transcontinental. The claim is openly made that the law regulating the handling of explosives was violated.

WINONA REPUBLICAN-HERALD SIDES WITH CONGRESSMAN

CLAIMS IT WAS BLACKMAIL

Says That Blackmail, Forgery, Libel and Everything Else Was Brought Into Campaign by Enemies

WINONA, Minn., Nov. 6. — The Winona Republican-Herald in which Congressman Tawney but recently sold his interest and which is still his official organ, in discussing the attacks of Mrs. Daugherty and others in this campaign, which succeeded in reducing Tawney's majority from 8,000, the normal republican majority, to 3,000, says: "Probably no man who ever ran for congress in the First district—or in any other district for that matter—was ever so grossly and viciously assailed as was Mr. Tawney in the late campaign. Blackmail, forgery, slander and defamation of character were the weapons used to defeat him and it is therefore no wonder that his majority is reduced to about 3,000. At every turn he had to face some malicious statement, for which there was absolutely no foundation, and all manner of charges were brought daily against him which the circulators knew were false, and even forged circular letters were scattered broadcast, which could only be partially refuted by the parties whose names had been been unjustly used. It was a campaign in nowise creditable to those who participated in it, and while it reduced Mr. Tawney's majority, it must have sadly smeared the hands and the consciences of those who threw the dirt."

POULTRYMEN WILL HOLD GEAT SHOW

The next exhibit of the La Crosse Poultry association will be the largest held in the city for years. The date of the exhibition this year will be Dec. 16 to 21, inclusive. At the last show 800 birds were exhibited and this year the number will be increased to 1,000.

The second ward school building has been rented for the occasion and will make an excellent place according to poultry men. In the past store buildings have been used and this necessitated the burning of lights. Chickens men assert that the birds do not show up to their best advantages under these conditions.

Numerous calls have been received by Secretary E. H. Hoffman for the premium lists and today's mail brought many inquiries, some from Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Michigan. The lists are now being printed and will be issued in a short time. Some excellent awards will be given this year among them being a fine fourteen inch silver cup which has been donated by the Park store. This cup is 14 inches high and is very valuable. The other cup is donated

THE CHAMPION PETITIONER OF THE WORLD

W.H. MURRAY "ALFALFA BILL" OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 3. —Mr. Murray has just secured the 23,000 names necessary to a petition, whereby the initiative measure regarding the sale of all public school lands may be presented to the people.

This is only one of "Alfalfa Bill's" many evidences of enterprise and hustle. One of the paramount planks of the democratic platform in the campaign of last year, when the question of the adoption of the state constitution and the election of state officers were the issue, was that declaring the party to be in favor of the sale of the state school lands and against a system of tenantry, but the plank did not give any advice as to the date of sale. The school lands, comprising 2,050,000 acres, are situated on the side of the state which was originally Oklahoma territory, and from that side of the state about half of the members of the legislature were elected. Many of them were given the toga of office because of their promise to advocate a bill providing for the sale of the school lands. The lessee vote was about 25,000, and it represented a population of about 65,000. Some of the lessees had held their lands for years and made extensive improvements upon them as well as increased their value through cultivation.

The first state legislature had its hands full of other things and failed to enact a law providing for the sale of the school lands. This incensed a large percentage of the voting lessees and likewise many of their land-owning voting neighbors. The legislature was overwhelmingly democratic and had waded into deep water or rather into a net from which extraction was a puzzle. Lessees called on the governor and made their demands. The governor was their friend. He is said to Governor Haskell's credit that in no instance has a public official has he shown him-by the Continental Clothing company. The Park store cup must be won three times straight to entitle the receiver its permanent ownership.

NEGRO STEPFATHER BEATS WHITE SON

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 6. —The county authorities of Grand Forks have a new race problem with which to deal. Earl Speer, white, does not get along very well with his colored stepfather, William Humphries. To escape whippings, the lad has been in the habit of running away from home.

The boy, who is 11 years old, asserts that the colored man is cruel to him and he is willing to go to the reform school rather than live with the black relative. On the other hand, Humphries claims that Speer, is a bad boy, and it is necessary to punish him.

MINNESOTA EDITORS TO MEET AT WADENA

WADENA, Minn., Nov. 6. —The Great Northern Editorial association will hold their first regular meeting in this city Dec. 4. The association was organized in Park Rapids last summer and already is one of the strongest organizations in the state.

The editors living along the line of the Great Northern railway are looking forward with anticipated pleasure to the meeting. There will be an interesting program of papers by members of the association and a most pleasant feature of the meeting will be the opportunity for the social and fraternal visit the occasion will present. There is every prospect of an interesting and valuable meeting and a large crowd is anticipated.

ALLEGED MILK GRAFT HELD LEGITIMATE

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 6. —A verdict of guilty for misuse of the mails in connection with the Nicollette Creamery company was returned against James Mulhall, E. V. McConkey and Philip Nathanson. The men were indicted by the spring federal grand jury charged with swindling farmers by offering high prices for poultry, butter and eggs shortly before Thanksgiving, receiving shipments and failure to pay.

MAY USE BOX SEATS AT PARK

A meeting of the stockholders of the La Crosse baseball association will be held this evening. The matter of installing about 50 box seats will be brought up together with the repair of the fence and other minor considerations. There has been a great deal of calls for box seats during the past season and the management thinks that if they are installed they will be well patronized. They are used by all the larger clubs and their installation here will give the park somewhat of a metropolitan air.

LAMP KILLS THREE.

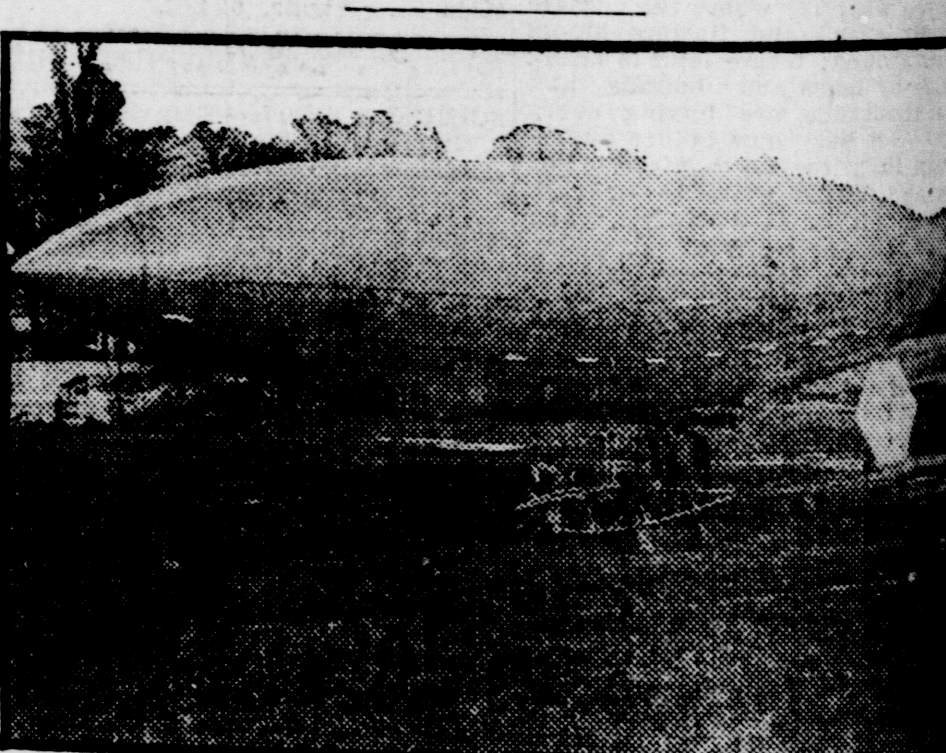

STEPHENVILLE, Tex., Nov. 6. —A fire in the home of Col. T. G. Bogle today caused the death of Mrs. Bogle and a grandson aged 7, and the baby. A lamp explosion was the cause.
